Ships Prepare for Long Stay—Government Watches Developments but Will Make No Move Unless Necessary; Gunboats on Way—Americans Are Not Believed to be in Immediate Danger

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 24.—While American cruisers were sailing toward rebel-menaced ports in Mexico today, there was lacking any indication of an altered attitude of the United States government.

Officials of the State and War Department continued to watch developments in the Mexican situation and unofficially it was declared any move by the United States was improbable unless made necessary by the menacing of American lives or interests.

Deputies Flee Carranza Wrath

Nogales, Sonora, April 24.—Three members of the Mexican Chamber of Deputies arrived here last night and fled from Mexico City to escape the wrath from the state of Vera Cruz, brought about General Alvarado Obregon to escape.

The deputies, Ezequiel Landeros, congressman from the federal district of Mexico City; Alejandro Vasquez Lopez, Chihuahua, and Damon Alcaraz, from the state of Vera Cruz, brought the first definite details of Gen. Obregon's flight. All three said the general, a presidential candidate, was in danger of execution, and they, with the five others, feared a like fate when it became known they sympathized with the Sonora revolutionary movement. The five others, they said, have not been heard from.

Obregon refused to desert the cause he had espoused, the congressman said, and demanded an "even chance" with Ignacio Bonillas and Gen. Pablo Gonzales in the Mexican elections, which he declared he was not receiving from the Carranza administration.

The story told by the deputies was to the effect that Obregon learned of the plan to arrest him and arranged to flee from the capital. Then he found himself followed night and day by a cordon of motorcycle policemen. The eight sympathetic congressmen visited Obregon in automobiles and later all began driving around, the three here said. The motorcycle police followed and then two of the automobiles crashed together by design. Gen. Obregon, they said, taking advantage of the crowd which collected, entered a home where arrangements had been made to receive him, leaving by a rear door and escaping in another automobile. The eight, three days later, felt compelled to flee.

HOLDS COUNCILMEN MAY RETAIN SEATS

Attorney General Says Four Lorain Men Have Right to Post

Lorain, April 24.—Councilmen John Baird, James A. Long, Thomas Peabbles and H. F. Alexander have a legal right to their seats in the city council, the state legal department ruled today in a communication to City Solicitor C. E. Van Dusen.

Former councilman Charles Helman's seat was declared vacant several weeks ago on the ground that as court bailiff, a post he is holding permanently, he is not eligible to hold a seat in council.

Monday night Helman charged the four members named above are not eligible to hold office because they served as deputies during the steel strike last fall. All four are department foremen and superintendents in the National Tube Co. plant.

The ruling of the attorney general's department is that the sheriff has a right to call upon councilmen, as well as other citizens, in case of emergency, and that such emergency service does not disqualify members from holding office.

The state department also ruled that Fred G. Parker of the Fourth ward is legally a councilman. The question of filling the vacancy created by ruling out Councilman Helman rests with council, the department says, and the mayor cannot remove him.

Helman's seat in council was officially vacated April 7, they say, and not Jan. 1, as Mayor Grall contended.

Who the party was that threw the bottle away is not known.

Representative W. R. Comings, who term as a member of the general assembly expires next December, and who has announced his candidacy for re-election, has decided to withdraw as a candidate. He has had under consideration for some time the acceptance of a proposition to take up his permanent residence in Honolulu and the return of Mrs. Comings from spending the winter there has fully determined him to make the change. He will, accordingly, dispose of his properties here and invest there. The change will not be made before October, but an early announcement is necessary for political or not business interests.

Mr. Comings, in talking with a representative of the Chronicle-Telegram said that he desired to express appreciation not only of those who had supported him in the past, but those who had assured him of their aid in the approaching contest, and all the citizens generally for their courtesy and kindness to him in his capacity as representing Lorain county in the legislature.

This leaves Attorney C. R. Summers of Oberlin the only Republican candidate for the state legislature.

OPPOSE WORLD INTERCHURCH MOVEMENT

Baptist Ministers from Five States Hold Regional Conference Here and Pass Resolutions Disapproving Interchurch Movement

The second and final day's regional conference at the Baptist church completed its sessions last evening. The following resolutions in opposition to the new World's Inter-Church movement was presented and endorsed by those present.

Resolution Adopted "Having duly considered and thoroughly analyzed the Inter-church and New World Movements, and having sought the leadership of the Holy Spirit, and submitting gladly to the unky of conclusion into which He has led us we hereby record our disapproval of these Movements, and do consequently decline to co-operate, or in any way identify ourselves with them, and for the following reasons:

1. These Movements are committed to a program that is not in accord with the spirit and purpose of this present Dispensation. Scripture reveals that this purpose is not to convert the world; nor to reform society; nor to eradicate the world's sin; nor to educate the periphery of nations, but to complete the Body of the Lord Jesus Christ, through the preaching of the Gospel, and the regeneration of individual hearts through faith in Christ Jesus.

2. They seek the co-operation of many who deny the fundamentals of the faith once for all delivered to the saints. Working hand in hand with them are those who do not believe in the Deity of Jesus of Nazareth; in His virgin birth; in His blood atonement; in His bodily resurrection; and His coming again in person, and in His visible resurrected body. With such men we can not fellowship.

3. They seek the co-operation of anyone favorably disposed, called "friendly citizens" or "not church even though such do not even profess to believe in Christ Jesus. This is directly forbidden by the Word of God. "We are commanded to 'come out and be separate'; we have 'no part with an infidel'; nor are we to be 'yoked together with unbelievers.'"

4. They fail to state any dependence upon the Holy Spirit, nor even recognizing Him as the indweller to guide, bless, and direct believers; as the Power to execute out a "people for His Name."

5. They practically deny that Christianity is an eternal relationship created in the heart by the Spirit of God. Their conception of Fifty stereopticon pictures loaned by the Interchurch World Movement were shown with illuminating comment by the pastor, Rev. Grant J. Boynton.

Sharp and Lee Stroup, chairman of the campaign committee, over $3265 was pledged on the spot, a guarantee that when the congregation as a whole is solicited, the entire quota accepted by the church, $3265 will be raised. KIWANIS CLUB VOTED FRIDAY TO BACK LEGION

Banquet and Entertainment Followed by Dance Marks Club's Social Meeting Event of the Season

It sure does take the members of the Kiwanis Club to make a success of a social meeting as well as a club session as was evidenced by the gathering last evening, when the Kiwanians entertained the ladies of their families at a banquet and entertainment given in Hotel Andvur, the affair starting with the 6:30 dinner served.

The appointments were carried out with the Club's colors, but the favors given the ladies were out of the ordinary as each was presented with a can of Moss Rose Baked Beans, the gift of Harry McDonald, a can of cocoa from the Forbes Chocolate Co., Cleveland Kiwanians, and here it is well to state that the Reichwine Co. of this city presented the ice cream for the affair.

The entertainment was presented by the American Legion Minstrel Show, composed of Ben Schubert, John Grey, James Colgan and Joe "Red" Gould, the endmen were Earl Greenland, Carl Rudolph, and Harry Davis, ballet singers with Harry C. Queen, the interloccutor.

Another contribution from the recent Legion Minstrel show that made a big hit were the bone solos presented by Dr. J. B. Duncan, who also assisted with the bones Miss Dorothy Cahoon, the pianist of the evening, whose splendid accompaniment throughout the program of all the numbers as well as contributing the music for the dancing, added fresh luster to her enviable record as a musician.

Miss Marian Vaughn and Ralph Williams, accompanied by Miss Ruth Vaughn gave several charming duets.

Concluding the program Mayor A. R. Jones following a most inspiring talk made the motion that the Kiwanis Club go on record as standing back of the American Legion in all its undertakings, and this motion was carried by an unanimous vote.

This closed one of the most successful meetings by this club.

Slain by Rifle Bullet While in Home—Is Murder or Suicide Puzzle—Boy Is Quizzed

Warren, April 24.—Warren's newest tragedy, the murder or suicide of a sixteen year old high school girl, remained unsolved today.

Scores of high school students visited the home of Olive Thompson and viewed her body while city and county authorities were devising every effort to determine whether she met death at her own hand or was the victim of a lover's bullet.

These facts are the only clues the police have to work on. The girl, one of the most popular in the city, was at home alone, members of her family visiting relatives.

Shortly after noon a young man also well known in the city, called at the home.

Nearby workmen saw him enter the house and leave about 3 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock the girl's brother, Elliott Thompson, returned home and found his sister's body lying at the foot of his bedroom. Near the body he found a 22-caliber revolver, from which one shot had been fired.

Dean Arrested The brother notified police and the young man caller was arrested as he was entering a motion picture show. He denied all knowledge of the shooting, but was held at police headquarters.

Members of the Thompson girl's family could advance no reason why she would end her life.

The theory that some other person may have visited the home besides the young man has entered into the home and all persons living in the neighborhood are being questioned closely about strangers.

SOCIETY EVENTS

THE HANDS OF TIME
TURNED BACKWARD,
IN NINETY-FIVE CLUB

It was a merry crowd that gathered last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor on Washington avenue for the annual social meeting of the Ninety-Five Club, when the ladies entertained their husbands.

The arrangements had all been made for an indoor picnic, and the guests wore picnic clothes which added to the delightful informality of the event.

A picnic dinner was served on one long table in the spacious dining room, and there were no decorations, of course nor no "beautiful appointments."

Regarding the spread, which consisted of delicious old time dishes, "like mother used to make," and prepared as near as possible like the menu of old, the pleasure of the dinners was a compliment to each lady who had contributed some of her culinary art.

Following dinner, old time games were played, including old time dances, among which the Virginia Reel, as always, was the favorite, but the feature of the evening was the "movie show" when there was flashed upon a white curtain, pictures of the members taken in their childhood, in fact so many babies pictures were shown that a prize was awarded the prettiest boy, also the prettiest girl. By popular applause the prizes were won by Mrs. A. J. Boynton and Kenneth Whitehead, although George Worthington's friends thought he should have received a prize on his sturdy appearance in his old time bicycle picture.

The amusement derived from this feature caused so much hilarity, that it is safe to say no member of the party will suffer indigestion for many days, if there is any in the saying that laughter aids digestion.

The ladies, members of this club who entertained their husbands or fathers at this unusually happy affair include:

Mrs. Ruth Boynton, Mrs. Anna Boynton, Miss Ethel Burrows, Mrs. Josephine Cushing, Mrs. Fannie Davies, Mrs. Anna S. Faxon, Mrs. Edith Henson, Mrs. Gertrude Horan, Mrs. Louise Lem, Mrs. Helen Richey, Mrs. Hattie C. Sharp, Mrs. Gertrude P. Shelton, Mrs. Frances S. Squire, Mrs. Alma Stark, Mrs. Clara S. Taylor, Mrs. Harriet H. Tucker, Mrs. Anne H. Whitehead and Mrs. Caroline Worthington.

With the exception of but three of the above club members the entire membership was in attendance.

TRIANGLE CLUB
ENTERTAINED

The members of the Triangle club of the Methodist church were entertained last evening at the home of Perry Ellenberger on Cascade street, for a delightful social and business session. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ellenberger, the host's mother, and the party was a most pleasant event for all in attendance.

SUCCESSFUL CLUB YEAR CLOSES WITH
DINNER AND PROGRAM

The Men's club of the Methodist church met last evening in the dining rooms of the church with the ladies in attendance and a very enjoyable evening was spent and a supper was served on the cafeteria plan. There was an abundance of good food and the eating together was, as always, a very enjoyable feature of the evening. The Ladies Aid society under the leadership of Mrs. Atterbury had charge of the supper and it was most efficiently managed. The attendance was fine and when the company was seated the large dining room was well filled.

After the supper, Club President Reese announced that a group of high school boys would entertain the audience, and Arthur Olson, Walter Penberthy, Glenn Hull and Wayne Koppes, in response rendered a number of popular and catchy songs accompanied by banjo music, making as always in their appearance in public, a decided hit.

Mr. R. F. Howe and an accompanist were announced and they delighted the audience with several musical numbers, playing at intervals throughout the evening, to the great pleasure of the audience.

Judge H. H. Harding was then introduced, as the speaker of the evening, and after commenting on the recent contest of Elyria men with those of Lorain and satisfaction and pleasure afforded him in being with the club again on this occasion, he put his audience in a good frame of mind to receive the message of several of his original poems which he recited with splendid interpretation, presenting the following selections, "The Smile and the Frown," "My Old Friend the Maple Tree," "Maple Sugar Time," "That Office Girl of Mine," and "The Song I Cannot Sing."

Judge Harding is an author and reader of no mean ability and his poetry abounds in good philosophy and good sense. It is of that kind that grips the hearer because of its naturalness.

The annual election of officers took place and resulted in the following selections: President Gust Kolinski, vice president, Charles D. Carpenter, secretary, Louis E. Welton; treasurer, Walter Barnes; advisory committee, C. W. Koppes and A. C. Meyers.

E. T. Reese expressed his appreciation of the fellowship of the members and spoke of the splendid co-operation of all concerned in making the club year a success under his leadership. He said that he was indeed sorry that he felt it necessary to retire from the responsibility that goes with the presidency of the organization.

He also spoke of the splendid way in which the women rally to the support of the club and made possible the success of such occasions as that of last evening.

Dr. Winters, in well chosen words expressed the high appreciation that the club has of the splendid service that Mr. Reese has rendered to the club so freely and gladly during the two years of his administration as its president.

After singing "Blest be the tie" Rev. Winters pronounced the benediction and another year's work of this active organization was closed.

SIXTY CANVASSERS
WILL HAVE BANQUET

The religious survey of Elyria in the community campaign in the interest of the Interchurch movement for the support of missionary and educational work at home and abroad, will start off with a bang, following the supper party Wednesday evening of next week at six o'clock at the Y. GYM BANQUET
EVENT OF TODAY

THE 'FOLLIES' MADE
A BIG HIT, STARRING
Y.W.C.A. AMATEURS

An audience that taxed the capacity of the Gates school auditorium, greeted the Y. W. C. A. performance last evening when they presented their "Follies," each department of the association contributing some "stunt" and so much talent was revealed by the various acts it would be impossible to give the praise to each which was their due but every visitor was presented a ballot on entering to vote on their choice of the best number, the popular verdict going to the Girls' Reserve stunt, who presented Carol Lewis in solo part and Rosalind Lees, Elba Fosselius, Grace Bruce, Ida Mae Morgan, Florence Ordell, Thelma Harding, Helen Kunkle, Lois Niedner and Alberta Shober, in a beautiful interpretive dance.

The second prize was won by the Industrial girls on the fine work of their minstrel show and many votes were cast complimenting the following numbers:

The three entitled, "Influences," staged by the High School Friendship club, the orchestra selections by the Alumni club, and the readings by Mrs. R. H. Harrison and music by Mrs. C. V. Beazell, representing the Y. W. board of directors.

Every number presented pleased the audience who demanded encore and the performers and promoters may well feel satisfied with the results of their work.

The proceeds derived are to be used in defraying the expenses of members of the Alumni Friendship club to the summer conference at Oxford in June.

THE HEART OF TEXAS
RYAN AT COLONIAL
SUN. MON. AND TUES.

Tom Mix is coming to the Colonial Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in his greatest Western drama, "The Heart of Texas Ryan," produced by him to be the greatest Tom Mix Picture ever produced.

In supporting of Mix are seen some of the most accomplished actors in the silent drama, including Frank Champagne, who has been seen opposite Douglas Fairbanks in his biggest successes, George Fawcett, one of the prominent character men of Cecil de Mille's productions; Bessie Eytan, a star in her own right and this season starring in the Pacific Coast Company of Olive Morosco's "Civilian Clothes," one of Broadway's biggest hits.

"The Heart of Texas Ryan" gives a thrill in every reel and presents some of the most daring stunts ever enacted before the camera. Tom Mix is at his best in this production.

STRAND SUN. AND MON.

"The Weaker Sex," which will be seen at the Strand Theatre, Sunday and Monday is a Triangle drama dealing with the modern question "Is the wife's place in the home?" Dorothy Dalton has the role of a successful woman lawyer who marries a still more successful lawyer of the sterner sex and is forced to abandon her law practice after marriage. Her husband will not even allow her to help him until her keenness and woman's intuition acquit his son, charged with murder and condemned by circumstantial evidence.

Charles Ray is seen as the son and Louise Glaum has the part of a woman of evil ways, with whom the boy is infatuated and with whose murder he is charged. The courtroom scenes are said to be among the most realistic ever shown on the screen.

MOLLY AND I AT
COLONIAL WEDNESDAY

Yerby Smith, art director for Miss Shirley Mason in the Fox picture "Molly and I," was a student in Mark Hopkins Art Institute in San Francisco, worked in every studio in that city and had a studio of his own in the Latin Quarter in the days before the earthquake. He did technical and art work at the Panama and Pacific Exposition, designing a miniature of Yellowstone Park, one of an oil town, and made "Toys in Toyland."

Mr. Smith is an expert in making miniature designs for stage sets, and under director Mitchell worked out every set in miniature for "Molly and I," which will be shown at the Colonial Theatre beginning Wednesday, so that the idea of the sets and the business that was to be filmed in them was complete in the director's mind before he began filming.

BEYOND THE LAW AT
DREAMLAND SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Just as youth devoured the stories of the west a few years ago, so will the grown-ups greet the adventures and thrilling story of the Dalton Boys in "Beyond the Law," the big dramatic feature motion picture which comes to the Dreamland theatre Sunday and Monday.

Emmett Dalton, the sole survivor of the four brothers, who recently was pardoned from the Kansas penitentiary, has the leading role in this gripping tale.

The production is one of those unusual pictures you see every now and then. Nothing just like it has been attempted, because it portrays truths only and at the same time introduces a delightful romance.

The unfortunate adventures of the Daltons is perhaps well remembered by most folks. They were hardened criminals, but made so by the rugged atmosphere of the west. All but Emmett has paid the extreme penalty—death—for their acts. He has served a term in prison during which he has reformed and is now a useful citizen.

This is one of the rare movie treats of the season. The story was adapted from the serial recently published in the Wide World Magazine so many local folks are familiar with it. Those who have not will be agreeably surprised for it is the first time picture of gigantic historical importance has been produced with one of the original characters taking part.

THE TATTLERS AT
STRAND ON TUESDAY

Madeline Travers is to be seen again in a powerfully dramatic photoplay, "The Tattlers," a new William Fox production, which will open a run at the Strand theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story has to do with sins against society, and is said to picture with a vivid realism the terrible penalty a transgressor must pay. Described as an absorbing play, it teaches a strong moral lesson. It is original in plot and staggering in sensationalism.

BURNT WINGS AT AMERICAN
THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Frank Mayo
in THE UNIVERSAL SPECIAL ATTRACTION
"Burnt Wings"

How a young wife sacrifices all that she holds dear to bring her husband back to health and how this very sacrifice creates a chasm that threatens to engulf both is told in "Burnt Wings," the photoplay which was presented at the play which will be presented at the American Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The fact that "Burnt Wings" is an adaptation of "The Primrose Path," the stage success by Bayard Veiller, author of "The 13th Chair," "Within the Law," and other stage and screen triumphs, was an assurance that the story would contain much of dramatic interest. But added to this is the direction of Christy Cabanne, the playing of the star, Frank Mayo, and his capable support, which includes Josephine Hill, Betty Blythe, Rudolph Christians, Beatrice Burnham and many others.

The story opens in the Latin Quarter in Paris where Ned Templeton, a struggling young artist and his wife, Joan, are fighting starvation in the hope of finally achieving success. Sickness finds them penniless, and, in the hope of saving her husband's life, Joan takes the advice of the avaricious landlord, who tells her there is always money in Paris for a pretty girl.

Some time later, when they are established in America, with success on the horizon, another woman—one who can give the artist position and fame—separates husband and wife. It is the old triangle, but treated in a new and masterly fashion by the author, and presented in a faultless manner by the producers.

"Burnt Wings" will be at the American Theatre Sunday and Monday.

VOTE FOR

J. W. SHORT

For Delegate to the Democratic National Convention
Mr. Short is one of the best known business men of Summit county and was placed in nomination for Delegate by his many friends who declared their allegiance to Governor J. M. Cox for the Presidency and believed that Mr. Short would give him loyal and enthusiastic support.

Since 1901 Mr. Short has conducted Hammel's Business College at Akron, a famous institution from whose doors more than 4000 young men and young women have gone to success in the business, industrial and professional life of the Fourteenth District. Besides his association with Hammel's Business College he has many other business interests in Akron and Summit County.

Mr. Short is the father of ten children, the oldest 19, and he gives this as one of the reasons why he is interested in good government and the nomination of Governor Cox for the Presidency. He wants his children to have the benefit of equal opportunity under the law and the protection of the free, democratic institutions of America so well exemplified by the Governor's administration and his popular party.

Mr. Short is a native of the Western Reserve, having been born in Geauga county, a part of the old Garfield district. He was formerly a member of the Akron City Council. He is a true son of the Western Reserve and deserves the support of all good Democrats in Tuesday's primaries.

HIGH POTATO PRICES
CAUSE SEED SHORTAGE

An acute shortage of seed potatoes is reported by J. B. Kell, garden assistant at the Ohio Experiment Station.

The shortage is due to the fact that crops for the past two years have been small and the high price for market potatoes has led growers to sell more than the usual amounts, thus restricting the amount available for planting.

Seed houses as a rule are completely sold out and potatoes generally can only be secured in small lots from farmers.

As a rule the quality of potatoes has dropped below the standard during the past few years, because careful attention has not been given to the selection of good seed potatoes at digging time. Specialists point out that field selection of potatoes at digging time is necessary to secure the best strains for planting.

The mission of the church is the establishment of the religion of Jesus Christ through humanitarian agencies, rather than the establishment of Jesus Christ Himself in the heart thro faith in Him. Religion never saves but faith in a Crucified Saviour always does.

"6. They seek to reform the natural man by natural means instead of regenerating him by supernatural means. Thus they lose sight entirely of the necessity of being born again through the Word by the Spirit. Our Lord said 'Ye must be born again.' He has never changed that statement.

"7. They seek to raise huge sums of money, thus practically denying the power of the Holy Spirit to raise whatever money he needs to accomplish His purpose through consecrated hearts, and these sums are to be used according to fleshly wisdom and not in accordance with the revealed will of God for this Age.

"8. They are committed to the support of institutions which not only do not stress the fundamentals but openly deny the spirit, not of Christianity but of Antichrist.

Fully one-third of the entire one hundred millions to be raised by the churches of the N. B. C. is to be used to strengthen institutions that are Baptist only in name, and which teach worldly education, and have no Scriptural claim upon missionary funds given to Christ to be used for His Glory and the spreading of the Gospel, and which graduate many each year who are not even professional Christians.

"10. They demand for clerical work and propaganda the time and effort of pastors who claim to have been ordained by the Spirit to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The large number of pastordom churches is thus increased and many of our most influential preachers are now vacant.

"11. They make no provision for the churches who do not feel they can affiliate, nor co-operate in this program. They are thus forcing a division in spirit and purpose, and which must eventually in a permanent division among God's people, for we must please God rather than men at whatever sacrifice involved.

Many Ministers Attend.

The following ministers were in attendance from out of the city: Rev. J. C. Clasper, Spencerville; Rev. James M. McKinley, Forest; Rev. J. T. Briggs, Sibby; Rev. F. H. Hughes, Wren; Rev. Andrew Turkington, Van Wert; Rev. Howard G. Fulton, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Rev. Winthrop Stillwell, Wellsburg, N. Y.; Rev. Milton M. Bales, Cleveland; Rev. Lewis B. Brydon, Montrose, Pa.; Rev. A. H. BRIDE-ELECT IS LOST SANDUSKY MAN SAYS

Sandusky, April 24.—Henry Bretz until recently in charge of Sandusky's scavenger department, has asked police to help locate Mildred D. Bath, whom he says deserted him in Toledo, while on their way to Monroe, Mich., to be married.

Bretz desires to recover a $75 diamond engagement ring and a dress, which he says the prospective bride borrowed from his sister-in-law as a wedding dress. He applied to Probate Judge Ray here for a licence to wed but the probate court looked up vital statistics and said he was only twenty years old.

Bretz said he was of age and the judge ejected him from his office. The couple went to Toledo by interurban and Bretz says while he was buying tickets for Monroe the girl disappeared.

It was the third time Wertenberger was tried, the jury disagreeing once and the supreme court ordering a new trial following a conviction the second time. Wertenberger will appeal the case.

BILLY WILKES

As Billy trotted down the side street, away from the circus, the cyclone still raged and blew loose boards and papers in every direction, but he kept on until he found himself out of the town and on the high road.

"Why, how good it seems to get away from the smelly old circus and be free again. Who cares for the wind and weather when one is free? This rain will wash the black stuff off my coat that circus fellow put on; and now I think of it, I'll just walk up to that board fence and butt off this old horn that they glued to my head; that will be the end of the Wild Goat from Guinea."

Suiting the action to the words he walked up to the fence and hooked the curved part of the horn over the rail, pulled back, and the horn came off easily with out pulling out any hair, as the rain had softened the glue. As it fell inside the fence, Billy kicked up his heels, whisked his stubby tail, and started down the road at a fast trot. As he ran, he made up his mind he would find Nanny once more, even if he had to spend the rest of his life looking for her. You know from past experience that if Billy made up his mind to do a thing, that he did it; for Billy's strong points were bravery, perseverance and stick-to-itiveness. These are good qualities for boys and girls to have as well as goats. It was a good thing that Billy

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Helpful Hints to Motorists

Use brakes as little as possible and eliminate tire wear. In coming down a hill run on the engine going into intermediate if necessary. A little care in driving saves a good deal of money in a year.

Lack of a serviceable engine does not render an auto useless. A camping trailer can be made from the body and rear wheels of an old car.

If stalled at night and without a trouble lamp, scrape together a small pile of sand, pour about a cupful of gasoline upon it and set ablaze. It will burn from 15 to 20 minutes.

To save tires, especially if they are wet, jack up the car so as to relieve weight on the tires and permit them to dry readily.

Leaks mean power wasted. The leak may be of water, fuel or oil. Good gasketing is the best insurance against leaks. If you are not sure of the existence of a leak, squirt a little oil over the spot. Bubbles will reveal a leak.

When a spark plug becomes fouled with oil it can be cleaned by boiling in a compound of common washing soda and water.

Always pull down the clutch before touching the gear shift.

"How often during the winter, when it becomes necessary to prime your motor to secure a start have you cursed your luck when you found yourself without a container of some sort for the priming fluid? Next time that happens just take one of your valve caps, cap the valve around it and lower the fuel tank; it will bring up sufficient gasoline to prime the engine.

Simple, isn't it?—American Motorist.

Empty gasoline tanks are more dangerous than filled ones for the reason that they will not be entirely emptied and the remaining gasoline will vaporize, the vapor will mix with the air in the tank and the mixture may be explosive. To grease springs, take a paint brush and oil and paint them weekly. It soaks in.

Theft of an auto can be prevented by removing indispensable parts of the ignition mechanism, such as ignition fuse, rotor on distributor heads, or interchange wires, leading to spark plugs.

New piston rings should be installed every 18 months.

When the spark plug is removed from the engine for any cause it is well to put a cork in the spark plug to place.

When on long trips strain the water that goes into the radiator, preventing impurities from getting into the cooling system and causing trouble later on.

Low grade gasoline is frequently indicated by a black smoky exhaust with a disagreeable odor and by difficulty in getting the engine started.

Trouble from water in the gasoline can be avoided by pouring the fuel into the tank through a chamol skin.

An emergency cotter pin can be made from a piece of wire fastened around a nail.

Valve stems sometimes are inclined to stick. This is due to deposits of carbon and may be remedied by pouring kerosene into the air valve while the engine is running.

When a car is driven on a car track, the wear of the car comes in one place, thereby placing an unusual strain on the walls of the tire. The tires are further damaged by small splinters of steel, which are likely to become embedded in the fabric. Don't drive on a track if a road is open elsewhere.

DUNN SELLS 2 STEWART TRUCKS

The Dunn Motor Sales Co. has delivered a ton and a half Stewart dump truck to be used by the street cleaning department in clean up week and keeping the streets clean. This truck makes a handsome appearance and has created quite a bit of favorable comment locally. This concern also delivered a two ton Stewart truck to Bishop Bros. to be used in making shipments between Elyria and Cleveland.

MOTORISTS PLAN VACATION TRIPS

"Arrival of spring and the near approach of the touring season are responsible for many inquiries on the part of motorists, who are planning more vacation touring than ever in the past," remarked Oscar Dunn, local distributor of the Dort car.

"It did not take the owner of the motor car long to discover that time spent in looking up rail and water time tables is waste effort when he has a better means at hand.

"The automobile has opened up sections which never before have been given consideration as possible outing haunts. They are off the beaten path, they fairly sparkle in novelty and in unusualness, and those who have enjoyed them have brought back word of the keen pleasure accompanying their trips.

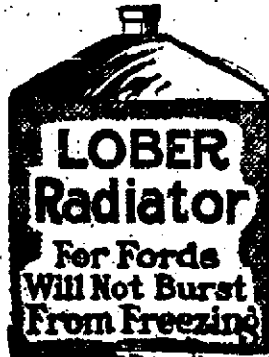

ABUSE and neglect will give any battery the "K. O." in short order, but it takes care and attention to keep it O. K. Charge must be kept up as near as possible to 1.280 mark—water must be put in to make up for loss by evaporation—connections must be kept tight and clean. If you want to keep your battery in the O. K. class all the time be sure to drive in every two weeks for inspection and test.

ADVERTISING IS THE BUYERS' PROTECTION

Willard Battery Co. Give Credit to Newspapers for Big Demand

The average car owner takes it for granted, says F. S. Aust, Willard battery service man, that national advertising on the part of a large manufacturer, is designed primarily to sell his goods. In part he is correct in this assumption, but there is another phase of national advertising which probably does not occur to the mind of the American motorist. In buying a nationally advertised product, the customer is protected by this advertising because the public is familiar with the name under which the product is marketed. If the product does not stand up in the service of the customer, this familiarity is far from being an invitation to buy the goods but is a warning not to buy them.

The National Advertiser spends thousands of dollars yearly in reminding the public that his goods are for sale. He realizes only too well that his product must live up to his advertising in every respect or it will be an expensive boomerang to him. He cannot afford to cut the quality of his goods. His trade name is too valuable to jeopardize in this way. He realizes that advertising is a two-edged sword which when used properly and backed up by quality products will carve out for him a large volume of business but if the quality of his goods. His trade name is too valuable to jeopardize in this way. He realizes that advertising is a two-edged sword which when used properly and backed up by quality products will carve out for him a large volume of business but if the quality of his goods.

OWNERS MAKE MOTOR CAR STANDARDS

"It is within the power of the motoring public to make automobiles measure up to their requirements," says D. D. Smith of Andress & Smith, local dealers in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"The success of any automobile depends on the degree to which it gives purchasers what they want and need.

"In buying a car see that you get all that your money calls for. If you are not a judge of mechanical construction find out from owners what service their cars afford. The testimony of not one, but many owners is necessary to establish a reliable reputation. The reputation and resources of the manufacturer are guides to the quality of the car.

"Service and economy are the chief points to be considered.

"Of what use are all the comforts and conveniences of equipment if the car itself doesn't stand up? What enjoyment is there in them if the car itself is a continuous extravagance?

"Complete satisfaction can only be experienced with a car that not only includes every essential of modern equipment but which affords dependable and inexpensive performance.

"These are the standards by which a car should be judged. Purchasers can secure cars that measure up to them if they insist upon it. "Satisfy yourself that the car you decide upon is fully equipped at the start. But above all make sure that the motor and other vital parts of its construction are such as to insure you dependable, economical and lasting service in return for your investment. By doing this you will advance the standards of the industry and benefit the motoring public as a whole."

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

There is, we believe in simply case after case, a deeper reason for the selection of the Dort than the merit of the car.

True, the well-known excellence of the Dort in performance and the fact that it is known to operate at a measurably lower cost per mile are unquestionably strong influences in the purchase.

But we like to think that aside and apart from these reasons the determining factor in the decision is a profound faith in the Dort Company.

The truth of the matter is that the name Dort has become inseparably associated in the minds of people with deep-seated integrity and careful skill in manufacture.

Each added Dort that goes into use serves not only to provide fresh evidence as to the quality of the car but also to emphasize anew the high ideals of the company that builds it.

OVERALLS—THE NEW PURPLE

The romance of clothing, for men, is to feel like something you do not resemble, like a well known club man with a Russian wolf hound, a pair of yellow gloves and a lean and speedy automobile, with two fairies in the back seat.

A gentleman buys a snappy suit of clothes and annexes the appurtenances, easy ways and graces of a prosperous stock broker with a place in the country or he becomes a football player or a yachtsman. A child can get the sensation out of a sombrero or a pair of trousers trimmed with red fringe.

The man riding the world just now is the workman. No one pays much attention to what the heavy financiers and the gentlemen with country places are doing. They seem to be running to keep things from being done to them.

Power is in overalls. They are the garments of the new aristocracy. The masculine effort to get the effect without being the thing inclines the Play Boy of the Western World to get a pair of overalls and see if he cannot feel like a carpenter or a bricklayer or a plumber. It is probably a grand feeling, also probably glorious.

The white collar boys wanted white collar jobs at first because they thought that evidences of manual labor were not found in the usual American success. Success was dressed in tweeds and later blossomed in evening clothes.

Men, many of them, undoubtedly are doing work for which women are as well fitted and have been avoiding work for which men alone are fitted because success seemed to be barred by overalls. Now it seems to be required in them.

Carpenters and masons go to work in taxi-cabs and can afford to. Artisans and mechanics are aristocrats, and hard, muscular aristocrats, getting what they want by saying they want it—an exhibition of power followed by a realization of comforts.

Men could save money on clothes by wearing their old ones, with a patch or two. The patch is the badge of the down and outer. It might be the sensible economy, but it is not magnificent. Overalls cost money, but they are the new purple.

New fashion and financial note: If half of the gentlemen buying overalls for white collar jobs will remain in them to work at the jobs for which they are intended, they will be at once snappy dressers and real money-makers. The way to get the automobile is not too like a club man, but to work like a steel erector.

THE CLEVELAND PEOPLE ARE INVESTIGATING

We notice that Mr. Bellamy, the correspondent for the Plain Dealer, with the representatives of the city council of the city of Cleveland, inspecting the gas fields, stated that "After driving forty miles through the West Virginia mountains inspecting wells of the Hope Natural Gas Company, the Cleveland city council and suburban gas company immediately became more convinced than when they started that, though the supply of gas is steadily decreasing, there is an immense amount of it still available."

This Hope Company, it appears, is the company which is furnishing the gas in the pipes for Cleveland.

We notice also that in this report Mr. Bellamy says the entire trip, "Since the company arrived in Pittsburgh has been under the auspices of the Standard Oil gas interests, their experts have accompanied the committee and explained the business of gas." The committee has been the guests of the Standard people in everything except expenses. One of their number finally said, "As I see it, the next step is to select our gas expert and ask that he be allowed to make his own investigation of the field as he wishes."

According to this report, the committee has found that to look at the surface of gas territory does not help materially in getting at the facts desired. They are planning on employing an expert and seeing if they can check up the gas company's statements. This is important data as a side light upon the proposed trip of the members of the city council who with other men as committeemen are planning to visit the Wooster gas fields.

HOW IT WORKED

We notice that in one case the landlord had increased the price of his property to the renter from $45 to $90 a month. The tenant objected and the landlord refused to decrease the rent. Then the board of equalization promptly doubled the value of the landlord's property on the tax duplicate.

There was nothing unfair in this. If people are getting double the rent for their property they certainly should pay double the taxes.

Governor Lowden has won a bunch of delegates in Iowa. But, speak it softly, it was not in the primaries, it was in a convention.

Problems of The Next Congress

By L. D. WOODRUFF

Editor Chronicle-Telegram.

I am enclosing a statement of my view of the problems which will confront the next Congress. I would appreciate it if you could find a space for it in the columns of your valued paper.

(Signed) L. D. Woodruff.

"Of foremost importance in our national life is the subject of our international relations. Our fortunate position of isolation from Europe and Asia came to an end when we acquired the Philippines. It is impossible to re-establish that isolation even if desirable. "Our sons were impatient to reach the front lines in France and our mothers were eager, if necessary to give the last son in the confident belief that they were sacrificed vicariously for future generations of sons and mothers who would never know the curse of war."

Treaty In Dispute
"The many grasping and arrogant provisions of the Versailles treaty have brought that document into disrepute. Down with it has been dragged the hope of the world for a better day in the League of Nations Covenant. It is well both for the world and ourselves that we are not sworn to establish and defend by arms boundaries drawn in violation of the rights of nationalities."

"But must the world lapse into another epoch of intrigue, encroachment and final catastrophe? The conscience and self-interest of mankind—the millions who bear the sacrifices of warfare and do not profit by it—cry out against such betrayal. The loyalties, the sufferings, the hopes of the world war deserve fruition in lasting and just peace."

"To this end a world congress should be called of all the sovereign nations. The United States is the logical nation to summon such a congress. We helped defeat Germany and asked no compensation. We, for good or ill, are most responsible for the failure of the Versailles treaty. The failing part of the Entente Governments, their impotence to deal either with one another or with their recent enemies, our material and potential military power, make our participation in world affairs more desired than ever."

"The unmeasured energies and resources of our people must find expression in unselfish world leadership in the interest of world brotherhood or else they will manifest themselves in sordid selfish grandstanding to the final undoing of both ourselves and the world."

U. S. and Mexican Resources
"Already concern has been felt in South American states as to our interpretation of our position as guardian of this continent. More than half of the total oil industry in Mexico is owned by citizens of the United States. These interests are supporting extensive press propaganda in this country."

"Mexican people make the plausible claim that these foreign interests are lending at least moral support to revolutionary movements in Mexico which both by weakening the Government and by endangering the lives and property of American citizens threatens to involve our own people in a second costly and unjust war of conquest against our southern neighbor. The Mexican people have a sovereign right to determine their own government and to dispose of their own natural resources. We should guarantee to Mexico that same immunity from insidious 'foreign' propaganda on the part of our citizens living under the shelter of our government, which we stately claim for our own institutions. Co-operation rather than coercion should characterize our relations with Mexico."

"During recent years our country has been passing thru an evolutionary stage of economic development on the road toward industrial Democracy. This transitional period has been an open struggle between Capital one side and Labor on the other, both organizing and gathering strength for battle. In this struggle the public has been largely indifferent and thru its government has proclaimed itself neutral. But in vital national questions, even more than in international affairs, indifference to moral issues is culpable and neutrality fraught with danger to the common weal. For the present common condition in industry, therefore, the public must bear its meed of blame."

Industrial Partnership Ideal

"The ideal relation in industry is that of Partnership. This relation, already voluntarily established in many factories, will gradually become the common practice. As a result, mutual respect will pervade the workshop, and brotherhood will be promoted. Bitterness will vanish. The strike which during the passing period of industrial warfare, has been the workman's law, and only weapon, will be voluntarily laid aside; production, by virtue of the partner's incentive of shared responsibility and shared gains, will be greatly increased, thus reducing the cost of living as well as augmenting the income of worker and owner."

"The factories which refuse to enter into the spirit of this dawning era of industrial good-will the right to bargain collectively as pointed out and explained by President Wilson's industrial commission must be maintained inviolable. "The right of men to quit work which is the last resort of the worker and even more costly to his family than to the investor and the public has been declared sacred by the Supreme Court as a guarantee against involuntary servitude. Plainly the wide-spread exercise of this right by corporate labor, as the wilful shutting down of factories and closing of mines by corporate capital, threatens the general welfare of the nation. The way out, however, is not by enjoining workers from the exercise of an established right but rather by compelling vital industries to follow the example already voluntarily set in the adoption of a constructive plan of Industrial Democracy. "Safeguard People's Need"

"In industry the interests of the whole people as consumers must be held to be paramount. To this end Roosevelt's Progressive platform of 1912 declared: The natural resources of the nation must be promptly developed and generously used to supply the people's needs but we cannot safely allow them to be wasted, exploited or controlled against the public good. The existing concentration of vast wealth under a corporate system, unguarded and uncontrolled by the nation has placed in the hands of a few men enormous, secret, irresponsible power over to the daily life of the citizen—a power insufferable in a free government. The coal and other natural resources of Alaska should be opened to development at once. They are owned by the people of the United States and are safe from monopoly, waste or destruction only while so owned. We demand that they shall neither be sold nor given away except under the homestead law but while held in government ownership shall be opened to use promptly upon liberal terms requiring immediate development. In harmony with the purpose of these statesmanlike utterances all natural resources and public utilities should be made the property of the whole people as fast as efficient management can be assured."

"The burdens of government should fall on all classes of citizens in accordance with their ability to pay. This should not be considered a penalty imposed upon success. Many social factors contribute to wealth-getting. The individual's own contribution diminishes in relative worth as his capital increases. Besides, the ultimate goal of industry is not profit but service and must be so considered. Unearned increments of value, especially of unused land, should bear a heavier burden than produce values."

"Future generations should not be weighted down unnecessarily with the cost of the World war. Payments made to reduce the principal of a debt is conservation; endless payments of interest is waste. The demands in human life made by the war were paid in full on the spot. The heaviest tax in human lives falls on those who have only life to give; the easier tax on capital should fall proportionately on those who have capital to give. If wars were thus liquidated in cash they would soon cease to occur."

"Expansion of currency and credits during the past five years has contributed largely to the high cost of living. Wages and salaries are not adjusted to this inflation as readily as are prices. When the worker does secure an increase in wage he at once has to forfeit it as a consumer. The preponderant share of the proceeds of industry which falls to holders of capital, middlemen and other 'profiteers' make life difficult for all and especially for the man with a fixed wage. Perhaps more fundamental is the need of increased production. This would be largely met in the factory by the introduction of a system of remuneration which stimulates output. Co-operative marketing would bring the producer and consumer closer together and thus give the farmer a fairer reward for his labor. Laws should be passed fostering co-operation in production, distribution and credit."

Saloon Elimination Helps

"The menace of the saloon with its myriad evils has been forever, we believe eradicated from our nation. This revolutionary change has released enormous resources of food, hand, brain and moral power to their normal usefulness. Most of all the workers of the world are the gainers in increased savings, power for organization and constructive thought. The possibilities of a sober nation defy the imagination. The other menaces confronting our country both at home and abroad are such as to challenge all our tempered powers and to make imperative that this one menace come not back."

"The rights guaranteed by the Constitution must be preserved if our country is to be kept safe for democracy. Respect for law and order, of which the Constitution is the cornerstone, requires the enforcement of its provisions. Two of these Constitutional liberties are insecure. The right of the Negro citizen to his ballot and even his right to trial by jury have been denied, the one thru the general and deliberate violation of the law for five decades, the other thru frequent outbreaks of mob violence which took the lives of 77 persons last year of whom 14 were burned to death at the stake. The right of free speech, free assembly and free press restricted during the war have scarcely yet been restored to the people. Even the right of minorities to representation in the legislature has been denied. Those who believe in law and order as well as all who love liberty and justice, should with increasing vigor uphold the Constitution and promote necessary legislation to secure to all our time-honored liberties and to the Negro in particular the civil, economic and political equality guaranteed him by the Constitution."

"The Ohio Institution for Public Efficiency has well stated the purposes which should control our attitude toward the immigrant, namely to secure for him a clearer and more general understanding of fundamental ideas of American democracy, including rights of equal justice, equal opportunity, government by majority but respecting rights of minority, and giving immigrants opportunity to attain to American standards of living."

Frank A. Stetson

Candidate for Republican Nomination for

Prosecuting Attorney

To the Republican voters of Lorain County:—

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Prosecuting Attorney subject to the Republican Primaries August 10th, 1920.

In asking for this nomination, I fully appreciate the responsibility attendant upon the proper discharge of the duties of this very important office. Next to the Judges of Our Courts, the Prosecutor holds the most responsible public position in the County, for he is legal advisor and Attorney of every County and Township official and of all public Commissions and Boards outside of the Cities and Villages.

Seventeen years in the practice of law in our State and Federal Courts and two years of actual experience in the work of the Prosecutor's office as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, I believe justify me in asking for your favorable consideration and support.

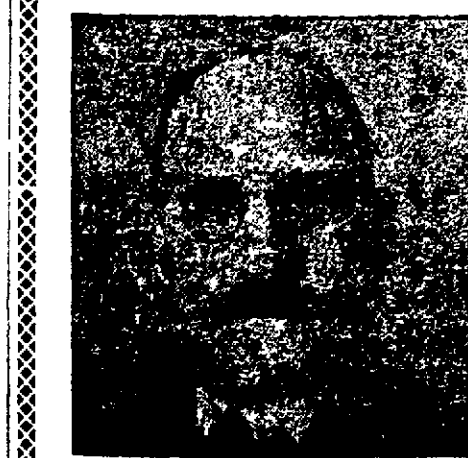

If elected, I shall have no friends to shield and no enemies to persecute, but will faithfully endeavor to discharge the many duties of the office honestly and impartially and as economically as the duties of the office and the successful prosecution of criminals in this County will permit.

If upon investigation, you believe that my experience and qualifications for the office together with my past efforts for the success of the Republican party entitle me to your support, I shall be very glad to receive both your influence and your vote in the Primaries.
